

Australian
National University

ANU Library

Personal Library Services News

JULY 2021

---

Message from the University Librarian

Welcome to the second Personal Library Service Newsletter for 2021. As we head into Semester 2, I would like to remind you that our library staff are here to help whether you are on-campus or online. Our website is a great place to start searching for information... we even have a special page listing the services for research students!

If you have any questions don't hesitate to email us – we will connect you to the most appropriate specialist Librarian who will answer your question, do email library.info@anu.edu.au at any time.

We look forward to supporting you in your research.

Roxanne Missingham, University Librarian

» view previous newsletters here

The ANU Law Library will soon be open 24/7!

Have your say!

The ANU Library wants to know how to make your Library experience better!

Fill in our survey to provide feedback and suggestions on how to improve our services and resources

Your feedback can make a big difference. In response to previous surveys, we have:

- introduced 24-hour access to Chifley and Hancock Libraries
- created additional study spaces and rooms
- developed programs to meet needs, such as online training
- launched the “Click & Collect” service, and more!

The survey will be open until 23 July, and should take approx. 15 minutes.

Law 24/7

We are excited to let you know that the ANU Law Library will soon be open 24/7! This will ensure students and staff have access to additional safe and comfortable study areas on campus.

24/7 access to the Law Library will be available from 9am on Monday 26 July 2021.

The ANU Library has decided to trial this service during Semester 2 in response to student feedback, and as part of our focus on improving services for all ANU students, staff and academics.

Extended opening hours

In order to improve access to our library spaces and collections, we are extending hours to our Menzies and Art & Music branches during the semester.

- Art & Music will be open until 8pm on Tuesday nights
- Menzies will be open until 8pm on Wednesday nights, and from 1-7pm on Saturdays.

All our opening hours are listed online.

Collection highlights

The shelves are continuing to fill with replacements for titles lost in the 2018 flooding event, including:

- 2,905 electronic books
- 1,168 print books
- 47 reference titles
- 25 streaming videos
- 5 JSTOR archive collections (comprising of 895 e-journals)
- A fully searchable online collection of primary sources documents on British policy overseas
- 438 dissertations and theses from around the world

You can view more on the Flood Replacement Project in our latest news update.

If you need any material that was lost in the flood and has not yet been replaced, please contact the library and we will purchase or borrow the material for you.

New subject guides available

A number of new subject guides have been made available in the past few months, including:

- Art History
- EndNote 20

New COVID-19 guidelines

Keep up to date with the latest COVID-19 guidelines and ask questions on the ANU COVID-19 webpage. Face masks on the ANU Acton Campus are mandatory in line with ACT Health requirements. And please remember to use the QR code check-in when entering the buildings on campus.

New from ANU Press

Like Fire chronicles an indigenous movement for radical change in Papua New Guinea from 1946 to the present. Drawing on data collected over several decades, Theodore Schwartz and Michael French Smith describe the movement's history, Paliu's transformation from secular reformer and politician to Melanesian Jesus, and the development of the current incarnation of the movement as Wind Nation, a fully millenarian endeavour.

Buy now, or download for free, on the ANU Press website.

ANU Support

If you feel you need support, call the ANU Crisis Line. All calls are confidential. You can call the ANU Crisis Support Line 5pm to 9am weekdays, 24/7 weekends and public holidays.

Phone: 1300 050 327 (voice calls only)

Text: 0488 884 170

Connect with the ANU Library

- View previous newsletters
- Read more information about our Personal Librarian service
- Keep up-to-date by reading ANU Library News
- Follow us on social media:

