From the University Library

The Career Development Assistance Fund (CCDAF) is for individual academic and professional staff with caring responsibilities who require support to participate in significant professional activities. The fund aims to support high skilled and dedicated professional staff who have caring responsibilities. Grants of up to $2,000 are available to contribute to the direct costs of professional activities. For example, this could include travel to attend conferences or workshops, or to purchase software licences. The CCDAF is in addition to the Professional Staff Development Endowment Scholarship Scheme (PSSS) and the Professional Staff Development Endowment Fund (PSDEF). To support this goal, the University highly skilled and dedicated professional staff are highly supported.

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand
• The future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

F&S as of this week identified other issues which F&S as of this week identified other issues which

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?
• HOW CAN THE SHIFT TO GOLD OPEN ACCESS BE ENSURED?

The Annual Review of the Student Health and Safety Committee has been published. From the Group’s website:

• Continued recognition of the important part of quality for the support for tertiary students
• An issues paper has been released for discussion on the future of Archives New Zealand (Canada is also midway through it)
• Further copyright law reform
• The UK has announced a review of its regulatory framework
• Other IP are not appropriate to do so
• Halt to government library closures and greater public investment in libraries
• Further consultation on public and private libraries, including the potential for a national framework
• Universal access to academic and research information in New Zealand or the National Library?