

JB Chifley Library flood donation appeal

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of those who have made offers of support, including donations of books and financial contributions. We are extremely grateful of your generosity and I am proud to be a part of the ANU community.

The Library received offers of more than 1,000 books from more than 100 individuals. Thank you.

Prof. Paul Pickering
Chair, Library Advisory Committee

Dear Colleagues

The ANU Library continues our work to rebuild the Chifley Library collection following the flooding of Sunday 25th February 2018.

We are very grateful to the over 100 members of the ANU community and broader community who have donated books so far to help to rebuild the collection.

Rebuilding the library's collection will be an ongoing process over the coming years, and even decades. We will need to continue to work together to achieve the best outcomes for ANU, and we appreciate your continued patience and support during this time.

While the specific call for donations is over, we still welcome any further donations of books or financial support. You can see the list of monographs lost in the flood on from this webpage.

If you would like to make donations please contact the Library Flood Replacement Coordinator via email.

If you have any other enquiries about donating material, please do not hesitate to contact me.
